

Hi my name is Jenelle I have been working in supported employment for 10 years. I understand that you have to get rid of the BSWAT to make a better tool. I just don't think that people with disabilities in supported employment should have to wait 3 years or longer to make the changes needed. Living on low wages is really hard the disability pension is hard. People with disabilities need independent living as well.

From Jenelle