Dear Sir /Madam,

I am Ian Vlasveld, a 34 year old Disability Pensioner who has been employed at Oakleigh Centre Industries since August 2012.

I was assessed using the BSWAT in November last year.

Since then I have gained more confidence and ability in doing many other jobs and accepted more responsibility in the workplace.

I request that the Australian Human Rights Commission allows the continuation of the BSWAT assessment for a limited time of three years while another way of assessment is investigated. If so, this will mean that I can be re-assessed soon and my hourly rate can be adjusted to acknowledge my improvement in my work since the first assessment. If not, I will be disadvantaged by being paid at the lower level than my improved ability for however long to find a new way of assessment.

Thank you for reading this.

Sincerely,
Ian D. Vlasveld
